Description

Clean Factory Rolex Yacht Master M126621-0002 Black Dial

Clean Factory has unveiled a stunning replica Rolex Yacht-Master M126621-0002 watch with a 40mm dial. This watch features a black dial and a metal strap with rose gold accents on the dial bezel and strap. This unique watch adds a touch of flair. The watch boasts an excellent gloss, a premium feel, and meticulous attention to detail, respecting the original. This exemplifies Clean Factory's consistent expert craftsmanship. A true must-have!

This model features a stunning rose gold plating, considered the most accurate color on the market. The black dial on this model is identical to the previously released 40mm all-rose gold model 126655, both of which we have thoroughly compared for authenticity.

Therefore, we will not be repeating that comparison for this release. Instead, we will focus on the authenticity comparison of the new coffee-colored dial.

Due to the lighting conditions in the softbox, the coffee-colored dial may appear slightly different. However, under natural light, the similarity reaches over 95%. We will provide natural light comparison photos for reference.

In the coffee-colored dial comparison, the Clean Factory version is slightly lighter than the authentic one. It's important to note that sunray dials are characterized by color shifts under different lighting conditions. The overall deviation in RGB color values is minimal. Clean Factory uses the same PVD plating technology as the authentic version for all sunray dials, including those on the Submariner, various GMT models, and the current Yacht collection. This ensures consistent color tones across batches. Furthermore, the thin coating allows the sunray pattern on the dial to be clearly visible, but it comes at a higher production cost.

For the Yacht 40mm Series 126621, the bezel is made of brass, plated with PVD rose gold, and coated with an anti-fingerprint film. For this version, we've upgraded the bezel material to stainless steel, which is much harder than standard brass. We've invested significant effort in processing and cost optimization to provide the best possible quality. Thank you for choosing Clean Factory Watches Rolex Yacht Master 40mm Series 126621 Rose Gold. We are committed to providing excellent products and services to ensure you are completely satisfied with your shopping experience.
